Robbert,—Yesterday morning about Robbery.—Yesterday morning about two o'clock some thieves unknown made a bold attempt to rob the residence of Mr. John Maxwell, on Centre street, East Wheeling. The thieves succeeded in effecting an entrance into a part of the house, and while working away were heard by an inmate, who raised the sharm, and caused the thieves to decamp. The only booty they secured was a contant a market basket, filled. The latter they left in the yard in their escape.

These robberies and extensive at the first so distinguished in the musical world—will give two concerts at Washtheir escape.
These robberies, and attempts at robberies, are becoming very common in our city lately.

OUR PAPER AND THE OPPICIALS.—It will be remembered that on Monday last we published a list of the names of persons against whom indictments had been found by the U. S. grand Jury in session here last week. We have since learned that it was not the desire of the officials that this should be published, and the property of the officials that this should be published. officials that this should be published, foars being entertained that some of the parties indicted might take advantage of the notice, and "make themselves scarce." The result of the publication was that Mr. M'Culloh, the U. S. Marshai, early this week had to bestir himself and arrest the accused. We are pleased to learn that he found them all safe, and his increased activity may have secured a subject or two.

SHARPERS.- As may have been observed from police reports recently a large number of the cases disposed of were those of parties arraigned for the practice of "sharp" tricks. In view of this fact it becomes our citizens generally, and our business men particularly, to be on their guard in their dealings with strangers. A thousand devices are resorted to by these sharpers to gull the unsuspecting. Tricks that startle the most suspicious even, and do credit to the ingenuity of the inventor, are practiced almost daily.

MARKET YESTERDAY EVENING.—The tended, especially by purchasers. The novelty of the thing having worn off, those who have no business there are becoming scarce. Beef was worth 12a 20c; Pork, 17a25c; Butter, 40a50c; Chickens, live or picked, 40a45; Potatoes, Irish, 40c; Cabbage, 5a10c; Turnips, 40c; Sweat Potatoes, scarce, $1 00.

Consumers justly continue to complain of the high price of butter, It is said that it can be bought in the surrounding country at 15a25 cents. If this be true, those who sell it here are charging too much of a profit.

We don't think Wellsburg would do for a Capital. Everything would be stolen, we expect, before a month. As for our whisky, we would like to know how the editor of the Herald knows it is so bad. We can only guess, when we reflect that he was down here list week on the grand jury. We suppose, also, it was then he tried to live for nothing. We are sorry he tried the cheap whisky, as we have some real good down here. Our boarding-house keepers have quit long ago lodging itinerants without baggage unless they not only pay, but in advance.

RUNAWAY,-Yesterday morning team, attached to a wagon load of stone being unloaded at the "Ott Block," ran away down Main street. They were quickly checked a short distance from where they street at the street. from where they started, and no damage was done.

WATER PIPE BURSTED,-The water pipe on Main street, near the head of the hill, bursted yesterday. The damage was repaired, and we suppose the stream now flows on acronals. stream now flows on screnely.

SEVERY ACCIDENT—A MAN PERHAPS
PATALLY INJURED.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. James Wilson, living over the creek, was very badly, perhaps fatally injured, at Messrs. Warren & Berge'rs oil refinery, in thiseity. About four o'clock he was set to work to clean out one of the lurge stills in the refinery, and in order to do so he ontered it, in doing which he was cautioned not to use fire in the work. It seems that as soon as he reached the bottom of the still he lit a match, and instantly an explosion of the gas accumulated therein took place, causing a loud noise. As soon as the seeident occurred Wilson was taken out, and found to be most terribly mangled—his nails torn off, his hair burut to a crisp, and his skin in many places peeled off in great pieces. Dr. Hupp was called in, and all that skill could do was supplied to refleve the victim's sufferings, which were said to be intense. Not much hope is entertained of Mr. Wilson's recovery. He has a wife and a number of children, who are dependent on him for support. He was a hard working man, and the seedlent to him is deeply to be regretted.

We hand a dagainst them. The means by which conflagrations are kindled are manifold, yet we propose briefy to notice but two—the cigar and pipe. Both of these are indulged in extensively, and both are prominent sources of modern conflagration. Smoking, while it allays excitement and promotes ease, teaches an individual to become careless to a criminal degree. The half-consumed cigar or smouldering pipe is cast aside without a moment's reflection upon the probable consequences of such an act. Tobacco contains niter, and, like "touch weed," it may continue ignited for hours. Too many of our fires are traced to this time that they were learning to be a little cautious and prudent. If a cigar, when carelessly thrown away, falls into a bundle of shavings, the first current of air may fan the smouldering spark into a flam, and by a breeze arried into a held, and by a bree
